

“Thank You, Gittleman”

When it came time for Steve and Stephanie Blum to finish the basement of their contemporary colonial, they did their due diligence. They considered every possibility, visited home shows, lined up contractors and solicited bids. After all was said and done, with every reference checked, they selected the company with the “glowing reviews” and chose Gittleman Construction Company.

“We felt we could really trust them,” said Steve. “We’ve got really busy lives and we couldn’t let just anyone in.”

The couple trusted Gittleman to reconfigure the space to create a lower level bedroom suite with a bath and a room to spare. They used the same finishes and quality as the rest of the couple’s custom home, said Steve, so “It feels as though it has been there forever. They made it consistent.”

While Stephanie now delights in an inviting basement that provides “a lot more space” for the couple, their two young children and overnight guests, Steve extols the benefits of working with Gittleman.

“Their people really cared and that’s huge,” he explained. “They were just great. They kept it moving to bring it in on budget, and they made it look easy to finish on time.”

“If we ever have anything else to do, we’d go to Gittleman.”

So when you’re ready to refinish, remodel or replace space, do your homework and discover the region’s most reliable resource when it comes to house work—Gittleman Construction Company.
